

Unique & United

Creative Visions, with support from the Bezos Family Foundation, is proud to fund the following organizations as part of the 2025-2026 Students Rebuild Unique & United project.

For each Students Rebuild annual Project, we team up with carefully vetted, high-impact organizations that are directly addressing the project's topic or involving underrepresented youth. Every submission to the project or student engaged generates funding for these crucial programs.

EXPLORE OUR PARTNERS:

Kids for Peace will implement Project UNITE, a comprehensive program of workshops and events designed to help youth explore their uniqueness while building connections across differences. By leveraging its extensive global network to support the initiative, Kids for Peace will foster inclusion and support underrepresented community members like refugees, special needs students, and LGBTQI+ youth.

Green Horizon Ventures will expand their work engaging youth throughout Rwanda in Students Rebuild programming and collaborating with universities and other institutions to make materials more readily available. By partnering with schools, the Ministry of Education, the Ministry of Youth and Arts, local government, Youth Centers, and independent artists, Green Horizon Ventures aims to reach thousands of youth and create a sustainable impact Homeboy Art Academy will expand its 12-month youth reentry program. Through healing-centered art classes and workshops, youth explore their unique perspectives, reinterpreting traumas and triumphs through poetry, painting, music, design, and other disciplines. By inviting participants to explore their identities through arts classes and workshops, Homeboy Industries aims to reconnect young people with their culture and community.

CARE Honduras will expand its work with youth facing the intersecting challenges of migration, reintegration, and violence. This year, CARE will engage young people—especially young women—in group activities designed to strengthen solidarity, build self-worth, and increase the respect they feel and receive from their communities. By addressing their unique needs and creating safe spaces for expression and connection, CARE aims to foster unity and unlock better opportunities for their futures.

Choose Love will expand their work with the Dobrodiy Club in Ukraine, Refocus Media Labs in Greece, and Free Movement Skateboarding in Greece. These programs provide vital support for conflict-affected youth, fostering a safe environment for displaced young people to learn, process experiences, and create art away from the daily trauma of war.

Welcoming America will expand their work supporting rural leaders across the US, increasing confidence and advancing inclusion in their communities. By connecting leaders and providing tested methods and approaches for inclusive and welcoming places, Welcoming America helps communities create policies, reinforce welcoming principles, and communicate the benefits of inclusion.

Search for Common Ground will develop a pilot of the Common Ground Leadership Academy, a program that equips a new generation of changemakers with the skills and insights necessary to bridge divides and transform conflicts. By supporting leaders with tools to identify and manage conflicts in non-adversarial ways, Search for Common Ground aims to foster unity.

TREEAMS will expand their work empowering Los Angeles students to come together across the city to plant trees, restore optimism, and reimagine Los Angeles as a greener, more resilient city for generations to come. By equipping students with tools and resources, TREEAMS aims to instill healing, hope, and action in young people across Los Angeles.

Ripples of Hope will expand its International Fellowship, supporting South Africa-based fellows in using creative activities, such as dance and spoken word, to promote cultural exchange and strengthen community bonds.

Open Roads will train program alumni to become vocal leaders of discussions around the value of our individuality, the power of unity, and the importance of time spent in nature. By helping young adults discover the benefits of nature and connection to others, Open Roads aims to equip them with the skills necessary to become leaders of unity and social change.

Narrative 4 will integrate the Students Rebuild's Unique & United project within its Cities School Challenge, reaching 40 schools in Kenya. The program aims to enhance students' leadership skills through storytelling and mentorship, enabling them to become creative changemakers who can identify local challenges and propose effective solutions. By seamlessly integrating with the Students Rebuild framework, Narrative 4 will work with young people to explore their identities, celebrate their differences, and use creative expression to share their vision of a more united world.
